Volunteerism Alive in Manchaug

Volunteers and children gather around a section of the newly-installed playground equipment at Veteran's Field in Manchaug.

MANCHAUG - Members of the Veteran's Field Committee and volunteers recently erected playground equipment at Veteran's Field in time for an active summer season. The equipment is the first part of a three-phase project. According to Committee member Phil Berube, the second phase, the construction of a sturdy "Jungle Gym," will take place soon. This will be followed by the third phase, later this summer, which is to fence off the playground area.

This project has been underwritten by community volunteers who held a variety of fund raisers to help pay for the equipment. Volunteers included the following: Sally and Ron Benoit; Brian, Irene and Melissa Berube; Don and Diane Brothers; Harvey, Ellen, Travis and Chris Bileau; Rick LaBonte; John Lewandowski; John and Judy Fisher; Rob Briggs; Chris Granger; Vinnie Berube; Albert Lauziere. Also, Walter Johnson provided a posthole digger, Ron Benoit Jr. donated the use of his truck, and Bill Guertin supplied water for the project.

The Gift of Time

MILLBURY - Students from the Shaw Elementary School participated in a "Gift of Time" program which was designed to encourage students to read. The program involved parents by seeking their help in encouraging their children to read twenty minutes a day. "Gift of Time" was a partnership between parents and the school in the hopes that the children would begin to develop reading habits. The students pictured above were recipients of gift certificates to Walden Books for reading the most in the "Gift of Time" program.

The Paul Revere Saga: Chapter Eight

(This is the eighth in a series of articles dealing with the problems that have plagued the Paul Revere Condominiums off Grafton Street since the project first came before the Millbury Planning Board in 1983.)

By Andree A. Belisle

MILLBURY - As part of the Planning Board's official "Notice of Decision" on the Special Permit granted to Forrow Builders, Inc. on October 20, 1983 for Paul Revere Village, the board listed the following findings regarding the land in question and the proposed use:

[The Planning Board at that time consisted of the following members: James Fitzpatrick, chairman; Mary Anne Dube; Phil Dumas; Paul Aubrey, Donald Markey.]

"The Planning Board finds that all issues relative to nuisances, hazards or congestion which could possibly occur because of conditions peculiar to the particular case, but not generally true for similar permitted uses on other sites in the same district, were satisfactorily resolved to support the granting of this special permit. Specific findings in regard to the land in question were as follows:'

- "Density of the Multi-Family Proposal: The feeling of the Planning Board was that based on the fact that Multi-Family Housing was allowable under section 23.2 of the Zoning By-Law and based on the lot size requirements, as stipulated in Section 23.3, pertaining to the number of units allowable to be constructed, that the developer had met these requirements and therefore negated any possibility of derogating from the intent of the By-Law. Any arguments pertaining to the enforcement of the use of the Open Space Plan (Section 44 of the Millbury Zoning By-Laws) are negated by the mere fact that such a plan is understood as being an option to a developer in providing for increased lot sizes in the event of a proposed subdivision. However, since this proposal is presented as being a development pertaining to (1) lot and not a number of lots as would be in the case of a subdivision, the concepts pertaining to the "Open Space Community" do not apply. In addition, Open Space Community regulations are considered to be an option to a developer and not an enforceable law which must be met by a developer in pertaining to a Multi-Family Housing project, located in a Suburban District.

- "Traffic Impact: Based on reports of three separate sources, (Koehrle Traffic Associates, Town Planner, and Traffic Safety Officer) the Board found that no adverse impact or congestion would be incurred by this project as a result of granting this special permit.

- "Visual Impact: The Board found that the submitted Planting Plans will provide more than adequate plantings and screening to provide no excessive adverse visual impact on the surrounding area. The Board also felt that after touring the proposed development site and in referring to the development plans, that the project would be well screened and virtually not visible from the street.

- "School Impact: The Board, based on a report from the Millbury School Committee and based on the findings pertaining to the number of school-age children residing in a project of similar nature, located in Millbury, that no adverse impact would be sustained upon the school system as a result of granting this Special Permit.

"The Planning Board also addressed questions pertaining to adequate water pressure for fire safety. The Board felt that, after intense investigation of the matter by the Town Planner and in reference to a letter by the Town's Fire Chief, that these needs could be met. The Board also felt that since the developer was willing to burden the cost of supplying an additional water source for fire safety (construction of 60,000 gallon water withholding tank) that this action actually exceeded the safety standards with regards to other housing projects, and/or subdivisions located within the community.

- "Dry Sewer Lines: The Planning Board felt that as a result of a report submitted by the Town's Sewer Commissioners that as an act of 'good long term planning' that it would require the installation of dry sewer lines. These lines would be installed during the construction phase of the project in response to the possibility that within the near future, a sewer line would abut the property and those residents living in the condominiums would be inclined to become a user of that sewer system.

- "The Planning Board, in their effort to arrive at an unbiased, safe, community minded decision regarding the issuance of this Special Permit, reviewed a total of 30 issues pertaining to this project. A list of these issues...included all aspects of the proposal viewed as being critical to the outcome of their decision. The Planning Board felt that since the developer was willing to comply with all of the stipulations and concerns of the Planning Board that the Board was then willing to comply with the request for Special Permit.

"In addition, the Planning Board finds that there are no foreseeable occurrences that would, as a result of the granting of this special permit, cause any substantial harm to the neighborhood or derogation from the intent of the by-law. The board also finds that the proposed project is in conformity with the

Beacon Hill Roll Call

This week's "Beacon Hill Roll Call" covers two weeks of voting by Senator Matthew Amorello (R-Grafton) and Representatives Richard Moore (D-Uxbridge) and Paul Kollios (D-Millbury).

WEEK OF MAY 27-31
SENATE

ICE 9S 165) - Senate 30-2, gave initial approval to the bill increasing the penalty for trafficking in the drug methamphetamine, commonly known as "ice." The measure would establish minimum mandatory sentences ranging from 3-15 years depending on the quantity of the drug involved. Amorello voted for the bill.

BOSTON SCHOOLS (H 5436) Senate 26-11, rejected an amendment to the bill replacing the 13 member elected Boston School Committee with a 7 member board appointed by the Mayor. The amendment would reduce the elected board to a 7 member one elected by districts to serve for two years. Amorello voted against a 7 member elected board.

THE HOUSE

HEALTH CARE - House first approved 75-74, then rejected 86-68, an amendment striking a $3.8 million reserve fund for cities and towns' unemployment health insurance contributions and providing that the state not fund and communities not be responsible for these contributions in fiscal 1992. Moore and Kollios voted no on both roll calls.

EMPLOYEE INVOLVEMENT - House 108-47 rejected an amendment striking a $72,000 item for a program to promote employee involvement and ownership in the work place. Moore and Kollios voted against the amendment.

TUFTS VETERINARY - House 95-61, rejected an amendment reducing funding for Tufts School of Veterinary Medicine from $3.9 million to $2 million. Moore and Kollios voted against the cut.

PAY HIKES - House 97-58, rejected an amendment directing the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority to repeal any 1991 pay raises and prohibiting any pay hikes until the Authority no longer has a deficit. Moore voted for the amendment; Kollios voted against it.

MBTA - House 123-29, rejected an amendment capping state reimbursement of the MBTA's bonds on debt service at 75%. Moore and Kollios voted against the cap.

BUDGET INCREASE - House 109-44, rejected an amendent requiring a two-thirds vote of the legislature to increase e state budget over the previous year by more than the flation rate. Moore and Kollios voted against the amendment.

HEALTH CARE - House 90-66, rejected an amendment repealing the universal health care mandate scheduled to go into effect in January. The repeal would replace a section delaying the mandate for three years. Amendment supporters said the yearly assessment of $1680 per employee on employers is unfair and will hurt businesses and the economy. Opponents said a three year delay will keep the idea alive and allow all parties involved to continue to negotiate. Moore voted for repeal of the mandate. Kollios voted against repeal.

WEEK OF JUNE 7
THE SENATE

THE SENATE - Senate 22-13, gave near final approval and sent to the Senate the bill replacing the 13 member elected Boston School Committee with a 7 member board appointed by the Mayor. Amorello voted for the appointed board.

THE HOUSE

EDUCATION - House 137-18, rejected a further amendment to the amendment raising the sales tax to 6% and earmarking the increase for education. The further amendment earmarks one cent of the current 5 cent sales tax to education and strikes the hike to 6 cents. Moore and Kollios voted against the amendment.

10 P.M. On two separate occasions, the House 118-34 and 112 to 37, suspended rules to allow the House to remain in session beyond 10 p.m. Moore and Kollios voted to continue beyond 10 p.m.

$38 MILLION - House 95-60 approved a further amendment to a proposed amendment providing $38 million in local aid. Debate over the use of the $38 million began after it was suddenly announced the money was available from unclaimed money and uncollected fees and fines in the court system. The further amendment would reduce the local aid to $19 million. Moore voted against the further amendment; Kollios voted for the further amendment.

Street Lights to be Disconnected

SUTTON - The Board of Selectmen has announced that as of July 1, all incandescent street lights will be disconnected and will not be operational. Residents can identify the incandescent type street light by the exposed bulb and the "tin cap" that acts as a reflector above the bulb.

Mass. Electric has indicated that residents can "adopt a street light" if they desire to continue a particular light. Those desiring to do so should call Victor Stolarczyk at Mass Electric (791-0041). Before calling, the particular pole number (the metal number affixed to the pole with the light) should be noted.

Residents having a concern for public safety after the removal of any street light should make known their concern in writing to the town administrator. The Board appreciates the residents understanding during this difficult fiscal period.

Public Luncheon

SUTTON - The First Congregational Church of Sutton will host a buffet-style public luncheon on Wednesday, June 19, from noon to 1 p.m. Oven baked chicken and homemade deserts will be featured, all for $3.50.

School Committee Denies Discrimination Complaint

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - The June 5 School Committee meeting was called to order by Vice Chairman Ed Wilczynski. Chairman Hanratty was attending a meeting with the Finance Committee and other town department heads over the tentative cut of $200,000 in local aid.

Student Representative

Todd Williams, Student Advisory Committee Representative, gave a brief report. He said the baseball team and U.S. Honors Class are to be congratulated for their successes this year.

Williams also said students have discussed the possibility of eliminating final exams for seniors who achieve an unweighted average of 87 in subjects. He said it would eliminate the pressure of finals and act as an incentive.

High School Principal Daniel Carmody said department heads are unanimously opposed to the proposal, which was tried in the past. He said they indicated that those who pursue their education will be required to take final exams in college and this will prepare them.

Audit Recommendations

Assistant Superintendent Richard Palermo gave a brief update on the english, math and social studies audit recommendations. He said there were 41 recommendations with 27 of those already completed and four in progress.

Wilczynski said he hoped that basic thinking and memory skills were being emphasized in the lower grades before the use of calculators is allowed.

Palermo said that calculators are only used for a specific unit and only when the teacher thinks it is appropriate.

Class Sizes

Carmody reported that class sizes in home economics and industrial arts are low, with some classes below the 15 pupil cut off. He said those figures could change after summer school. He asked the committee to allow him to hold off closing out the classes at this time.

Committeewoman Jane Pojani asked if any teachers are teaching fewer than five periods per day at the high school. The teachers' contract states that they are to teach five classes.

Carmody said the contract also provides for one preparation period and one supervised study period.

Pojani said there are teachers in the math department teaching fewer than five teaching periods. She said it would be cheaper to hire a permanent substitute for the in-house suspension supervision that to use a contracted teacher.

"It says clearly in the contract that teachers are to teach five classes. Some people are not doing it. It is being done at other levels (elementary)," she said.

Sylvia said that contracts are being discussed and he wasn't sure whether this was the forum for that discussion. He also said that the teachers teaching only four classes are working with the students.

Miscellaneous

- The committee approved a request from Summer School Director Roger Desrosiers to raise tuition from $50 to $75 for Millbury residents and from $80 to $100 for out of town students.

- Sylvia said evaluations of principals are being completed. Pojani asked if the committee could see the evaluations. Sylvia said he understood that under the principals' contract, only he would do evaluations.

- Sylvia said a survey of requirements for extra curricular activities in 11 towns has shown that six towns have no academic eligibility requirements and five do. The committee took no action on whether to have eligibility requirements until they receive a recommendation from Carmody and assistant principal Charles Caparelli.

- The committee approved the first reading of the revised homework policy. The policy will indicate that the expectation sheets will have a footnote indicating homework may or not be a percentage of the students' grades.

- Business Manager Sue Pierce noted that Tom Dunford of the Millbury Little league called with a donation of $2500 towards the paving of a parking area near the Windle Field tennis courts. She said the check for $2500 and a $1000 check from the Lions Club will be made out to Granger Lynch to satisfy the legal requirements for accepting a monetary gift.

Sex Discrimination Complaint

Item 3 on the agenda called for a review of Pauline Gauthier's May 15th hearing on a Title IX and Chapter 622 sex discrimination complaint over her involuntary transfer from a High School math position to a grade 7-8 team position.

Sylvia said Dennis Leonard, high school math teacher, wanted to address the committee. He also said the committee was in possession of a letter and a memo from Tom Murray, Millbury Teachers Association (MTA) president, pertaining to this issue.

In the letter, Murray said he wanted to reiterate the position of the MTA: "Fairness and equity should remain important principles in decisions affecting teaching assignments and transfers. When any individual feels that these principles have been violated, it should be of real concern to all. From the perspective of the Millbury Teachers Association, we are committed to ensuring a full and fair hearing of individual concerns on these matters."

The memo read as follows: "At the May 15 School Committee Meeting, the question was raised by a member of the Millbury School Committee that if Title IX Chapter 622 issues are a problem in the school system, why is it that the School Committee only rarely hears of such problems. I asked Building Reps at all three buildings to informally poll the people in their buildings on this issue. Forty-four people were willing to offer an opinion on this issue and the results were as follows:

No. (There is no serious problem in this area). 8
Yes (There is a serious problem in this area). 36

"Many people were able to cite specific examples of why they felt as they did," Murray wrote, "but did not want their names or the incidents mentioned for fear of their identity being revealed."

The committee did not comment on the letter or the memo.

[Sylvia, in releasing the memo to the Chronicle, said he wanted it to be noted that the opinion poll asked for a single yes or no answer and that there are 110 staff people in the Millbury School system.]

Dennis Leonard then addressed the committee and said he was not present to speak either for or against the complaint. He said that after the reading the report of the May 15th hearing in last week's Chronicle, he met with Carmody and Sylvia to comply to Pojani's request for his qualifications and experience.

Leonard passed out a resume, saying he was chosen for his present math position because he had the best educational and business background.

Leonard also said, from what he has read, it appears to be an issue of he vs. Gauthier. "I do what I am told to do," he said. "I was sent down to the Middle School during Prop. 2 1/2 without any problems. This past year, I'm left without a homeroom. I travel throughout the school. No problems, I do what I'm told to do.

"I want to make a definite point," Leonard continued. "There never was a meeting between Mr. Carmody, Dr. Sylvia and myself, with reference to them telling me to go to Shaw Middle School (Shaw is now an Elementary School). I do not wish to hear that again or I am the person that will be seeking legal counsel," he said. "I was never told to go to Shaw Middle School and I never refused to go to Shaw Middle School. Now, does everybody understand that."

(At the May 15th meeting, Dr. Sylvia said he did not talk to Leonard about teaching grade 8. "I talked to him about grade 6 at the Shaw School. He was very much against that," Sylvia said.

Gauthier, at the May 15th meeting said, 'When I was told about my possible reassignment, Dr. Sylvia said he asked Mr. Leonard to take another position but Mr. Leonard refused to do so.")

Pojani said the newspaper article did not refer to all that was said that night and that she wasn't referring to his qualifications "per se." She noted that Gauthier has 9 years of experience teaching grades 7 and 8 and it was in relation to that that she asked Sylvia about Leonard's qualifications.

(At the May 15th meeting, Sylvia said that Leonard had some experience in junior high teaching but did not specify how many years in relation to Gauthier's 9 years.)

Chairman Chet Hanratty said the committee was to address the issue of whether there was a complaint under Title IX. "I honestly believe there was no sex discrimination," he said. He then asked for a motion.

After a pause, Pojani moved to deny the grievance. Committeeman Alan Marble seconded the motion.

Wilczynski said he was glad Leonard was present to clarify that the transfer was to put a person in grade 6, not grade 7 and 8. He said it was not a situation where Leonard was asked to go to grade 6 and that he did not refuse to go.

Leonard said the Shaw Middle School was never mentioned to him.

Committeeman Bruce Pease said he saw no violation of Title IX or Chapter 622 and felt the transfer was made in the best interest of all concerned, primarily the children.

Pojani said there was no case of sexual discrimination as Leonard was not asked to go down to a lower grade. Robert Dufault and Gauthier were the only ones moved. She said that, based upon facts given to the committee, Sylvia did what was best for the students.

Marble said he made his decision based on a review of the facts and the qualifications of the teachers. "I did not see any sex discrimination here," he said.

Hanratty said he believed the situation could have been handled better and with more sensitivity, "but I do not believe there was sex discrimination."

The vote was 5-0 to deny Gauthier's complaint.

Grade 7-8 team teacher Robert Dufault then spoke to his transfer to grade 6. He said he was not asked, but told that he was going to the Shaw School. He also said there has been a lot of talk about the transfers being for the benefit of the students. He cited all the work the grade 7-8 team has done, what it has accomplished, and the positive remarks received from parents, the administration, and the school committee.

"It seems I have served my purpose now," Dufault said. "I thought the support the team has would be long lasting. I feel like an outsider. I'm gun shy at this point."

Dufault said one of his main concerns was the corrected reading class he started this year. He said it will suffer as there is no one designated to carry it on next year.

Hanratty said there may be more cuts and more transfers.

Teacher Anna Lewandowski said she agreed with what Dufault was saying and is also concerned with the corrected reading class. She then asked Sylvia what he talked to Leonard about with regard to the position.

Sylvia replied, "I talked to him about going to elementary." Several teachers present said, in unison, "Shaw is elementary."

"I've been waiting for this," Leonard said. "People who were not in the meeting are assuming things. Shaw was not mentioned."

Hanratty ruled Leonard out of order and asked him to wait his turn and allow Sylvia to answer Lewandowski's question.

Sylvia said he talked to Leonard about going to the elementary school and that he (Leonard) has elementary certification. "I didn't tell him to go down there," Sylvia said, "we discussed it."

Leonard said he was one of two people in the system certified for lower elementary and secondary. "Dr. Sylvia and Mr. Carmody and I discussed this, the three of us, and Shaw was never mentioned and that's the point that I want to get across to everybody. It was never suggested that I would be put down there," he said. "It was discussed that there may be some moves in these directions. That was the conversation. How can people go out and say I refused?"

Hanratty asked Sylvia to present the next agenda item.

Wilczynski said he wanted to comment and express his and the committee's appreciation for the efforts of the team staff. He said it is hoped that Gauthier will work well with the group. "Gauthier has experience there at that grade level as well as Mr. Dufault at the grade 6 level. I hope Mr. Dufault does offer input to his present team this year," he said. "I know it's a hard thing to transfer. It think enough has been said. I hope for the best."

The general density of this development would be similar to that of an allowable subdivision, in terms of persons per acre and the density is far less than the maximum allowed for a multi-family project in this zoning district under the zoning by-laws."

March has partly been wasted, but agreed that the problem could be eliminated easily.

Miscellaneous

- Chizy questioned the status of a flea market behind the Sutton Square Mall. Blois said the Building Inspector had sent a Cease and Desist order.

- LaBonte reported on the completion of set-up at Veterans Field by a crew of volunteers, including the following: Walter Johnson, Bill Guertin, Harvey and Ellen Bileau, Don and Diane Brothers, Vinny, Phil, Irene and Melissa Berube, Albert Lauziere, John and Judy Fisher, Ron, Ron Jr., and Sally Benoit, Robby Briggs, Chris Granger, John Lewandowski and Dan Lessard.

- Johnson asked Blois to prepare a letter for the board to send to all Sutton residents who served during the Gulf crisis. The 4th of July Committee will supply the names. The letter will be given to those in attendance on the 4th, and will be mailed to the others.

Medbury Road

Johnson questioned what action has been taken on signing Medbury Road to relieve residents complaints about truck traffic. A Highway Safety Committee report had suggested a "Truck Exclusion." Blois suggested making Medbury Road One-Way from Mendon Road to Putnam Hill Road.

Blois explained that the truck exclusion process involves 24 hour traffic counts and State approval. The one-way solution requires only the approval of the selectmen at a meeting in which the item is included on the agenda. After further discussion, Blois suggested an on-site appraisal of the area.

Sewer Privilege Fees

Blois had prepared a four page report on the background of sewer betterments, assessments and privileges. Present for the discussion was Dana Gravison who had requested a waiver of sewer fees at the board's May 23 meeting for his proposed eight lot subdivision entitled "Mark's Way."

"I realize that Mr. Gravison wants to get under way," Strieby said, "but also I realize that we are getting something that needs digesting." He asked Gravison if he would agree to delay another week to allow the board to study the report. LaBonte also said he preferred to have a week because, "I know from a quick reading there are some questions I have for the Sewer Commission and for you. If you want a decision tonight, so be it."

Gravison replied, "I can wait another week. My only complaint is it was supposed to be discussed at a work meeting. What happened to the work meeting, and why was the thing handed out tonight?"

Strieby polled the Board. Johnson said he could wait a week, but would prefer not to discuss the matter further. "We have a sewer commission; they run the department," he said. "I just don't see why it comes to us again."

Ezold, Sewer Commission Chair said, "That's the way the town works. If they don't like our decision they go to you."

Chizy said he agreed with Johnson. "I don't think we should be second guessing any town board."

Ezold reminded the board, "This issue has never been waived by the Commission. Everything has been brought before the Board of Selectmen."

Gravison said the information before the Board "is not even close to the data that you should have to make a decision."

It was decided to devote next week's workshop meeting to the matter, to which Gravison agreed. The Sewer Commission will attend.

The meeting adjourned at 8:50 P.M.

48 PROVIDENCE ST., MILLBURY 865-1972

From My Window on Farnsworth Court

By "Pastor Rae" Cameron

It was my privilege to offer both the invocation and benediction at the graduation exercises at Millbury High School. The Supreme Court did not show up, but it was done with some apprehension. I was told it might be the last time this would be allowed. My response was that I did not believe that it should be a law that you had to have prayers in school but that it should be allowed. "Spoken like a true clergyperson," was the response. Perhaps if prayer is not allowed at graduation then our local churches can get together and offer a voluntary baccalaureate program.

It is beyond me why we dump almost all of our social problems on our children and the school system. When it came to civil rights, we thought that bussing was the answer to integrating our society. That has not proved successful at all, but has created even more problems.

As a Baptist and part of what is called the "Free Church Tradition," I am a believer in the separation of church and state. Neither one should rule over the other, but this does not mean that there cannot be cooperation between the two for the good of the people. Neither can either one be separated from God who has ordained the state just as much as He has the church.

The real problems of our society lie deep in the heart of us, and it is in our hearts, souls, and minds that we need to change. This calls for two very religious experiences, and those are repentance and regeneration.

Repentance means to change your mind. It calls for thinking through our problems and facing the evil thoughts that are within us and are not loving and kind. Regeneration is the inner working of God's Holy Spirit to make us over into a new creation. It is God at work within us and convincing us of our sin and wrong thinking, and replacing these thoughts with thoughts of love and forgiveness. Amen.

Here & There Bits 'N Pieces

. . . by Joe Morin

WELL, HELLO GOOD PEOPLE! Guess who's back with more of who and what, this and that, whatever. Well, my friends, Hell's a poppin' all over this earth of ours! What with earthquakes, floods, typhoons, a lot of good people are having it rough! Bangladesh certainly is experiencing all that nature has to offer in the form of destruction. What can we do? Pray and hope that relief efforts will help in their endeavors to lead some kind of a normal life. Let's not complain when we stub our toe. O.K. Gang! Let's get on with it....

BE ON GUARD - Noticed quite a few raccoons spread out on the roadways! Rabies is quite prevalent now among 'coons. Keep the heck away from the live ones!

YES SIRREE, and long overdue. The little ladies have been invited by a local parish to help out on the altar. And why not? Their mothers are serving as lectors, ministers. There will no doubt be eyebrow raising, but their service is needed, so go for it gals. Don't let the altar boys intimidate you. They won't, they're ok guys.

OUCH!!! Did you know that there are more than 40 million teeth extracted each year in the U.S.....Taxis are getting so expensive in New York City it's cheaper to get mugged and wait for an ambulance (ditto Boston), so they say. But wait 'til the doctor bills come in....HAVE you checked the price of oranges lately? How about gas, oil? Again we say, be careful out there friends, it's wild, 'coons and all.

HOW ABOUT THIS ONE: Finances are so bad in Leicester, people have been asked to adopt a light pole and help pay the cost of keeping it lit. Has it really come to this? Will this idea spread to other communities? What's next? Adopt a policemen, a fireman, the garbageman? If it has to be, it has to be, or does it? But don't touch 2 1/2. Maybe each town could sponsor a lottery, as if we needed another one! Lord help us. Millbury doesn't seem to be doing too bad - good fiscal management perhaps?

GOTCHA! OR DID THEY GET US? California's Stanford University billed the U.S. government (that's us, folks) for dubious items like wedding receptions, yachts, antiques, etc. The same university received a $137,000 grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities to, now get this, microfilm 1,020 volumes of Uruguayan Congressional proceedings. Those bozos running the NEH had better realize that they are fooling around and wasting OUR money. Those windbag politicos had better keep a better eye on where it's all going and whose pockets it's going into. Wonder if they're still spending millions studying the sex life of the tse tse fly.

SPRAYIN' AND SPREADIN' - We're doing too much of it, so they say. It's getting so, people are breaking out in rashes, young ones crawling in the grass after a spraying feeling not up to par. It's said that some of these chemicals are just too potent. Personally, I let Mother Nature fertilize my lawn. You know, birds, ducks, what have you! But I suppose that kind of fertilizer is nothing to "crow" about if it's in abundance. Lord, you just can't win today. Caution! That's what it's all about when using fertilizer.

GARLIC IS IN! Scientists are just beginning to back up what herbologists have known for centuries: garlic do work! Ancient Romans used it as a cure all for boils to bee stings. Greek historians had documented its effectiveness on clearing arteries (and rooms) and strengthening the heart. Our Indian brothers way back when have been using herbal medicine for centuries. It worked; we laughed. Then somebody came out with the idea, hey, let's charge 'em for all this good stuff. Alas!

FILL 'ER UP! Oxygen is now being offered to all shoppers in shopping malls in Mexico and Japan. The outside air is so bad that oxygen parlors/stations are being set up at $1.50 a whiff. Wonder when these air stations will be available to us here in the States? Now not only will your car stop for air, so will you. Good grief!

AHA! ANOTHER LOVE BOAT! The U.S.S. Acadia, a naval repair ship, returned to San Diego a few weeks back after serving about seven months in the Persian Gulf. Last week, Navy brass confirmed that while the Acadia was at sea, 36 of the 450 sailors aboard were transferred to shore duty because they were "with young." Navy brass insist no evidence exists that anyone broke naval regulations. Nine of the women arrived on board not knowing they were "with young." Mamma Mia!

I DON'T KNOW, BUT...gals with earrings, no problem; guys with earrings, hey, that's their thing. But rings through the nose, well cousin, that's another ball game. There was a time, not that far away, we thought African tribesmen and women were odd looking because of their dress and ornamentations. Believe me, we're not that far behind them. But they wore their accoutrements with class. That, me buckoes, is what we're missing.

SKUNK(S) OF THE MONTH AWARD has to be given first to those who desecrate a cemetery; second, to those idiots who throw heavy missiles off bridges and kill; third, to that guy who stole thousands from his mother to pay for his addiction.

TWO STRIKES, you're out! We speak of that store that sold me a ham slice, you know, the smoked, wrapped kind. Brought it home, smelled to high heaven. Told the bozo manager about it. He was sorry, didn't get my money back, didn't have my slip. O.K. No big deal. Dumb me then purchased a package of ribs for a barbecue. Believe me friends, when I tell you this. That pack was worse than the first. Aha! But this time, I kept the receipt; this time I saw the Big Cheese! Enough with the bad meats. To top it all off, I wasn't the only complainer around. A BIG market like that. There oughta be a law. I guess I just picked out a bad herd of cattle that week! Moo and Oink to that store.

PEOPLE helping PEOPLE...a news story recently showed how apartment dwellers got together to help out tenants afflicted with AIDS. One started out making home made soup and the idea spread; bread was homemade by another tenant. Delivery men were then organized, and others dropped by just to say hello. The Manhattan Project. That's what they called it.

JUST HAPPENED to glance through my dining room door, spotted the color of the azaleas at their peak; in the background the green of the rhododendrons; next the bronze of the maples. The wall clock just played the tune, "Be It Ever so Humble" you know, there's no place like home. Wow! Then I thought of Bangladesh again, the Kurds, all the suffering. Nature doth hath fury; but it also has its beauty. Thank you, lord.

HOW ABOUT THIS ONE! Ground ostrich meat. Yupp. They're serving ostrich burgers in California. Expensive though - $6.95 a burger. The meat is dark, tasty and similar to beef, but 1/8 the fat and 15% less cholesterol. They even say it's lower in calories than chicken or turkey. OK you guys not working, start an ostrich farm. You heard it here!

'Tis time again to say fare thee well until we meet again. We thank you for putting up with us, for your kind words of encouragement in putting this thing together. We again urge you to watch out in the marketplace, stay clear of racoons, don't look up when the ducks fly over, be careful of the fertilizer, keep an eye on spenders in Washington, and most of all, be kind to one another. God love's ya, and I do too. See you later.

Your pal,

Joseph

Site Visit Due for Medbury Road

By Lawrence Moore

SUTTON - Chair David Strieby opened the Selectmen's June 4 workshop section with Wally Johnson, Mike Chizy, Rick LaBonte, and Town Administrator Dexter Blois present.

Correspondence

E.L. Harvey advised that the market for recyclable newspaper has "dried up", meaning that the town would have to pay $50 a ton for removal instead of being paid. Because it will extend the life of the landfill, Blois is planning to continue paper pickup after July 1 and thenceforth to be guided by possible "changing conditions." This cost is substantially less than carting it to Wheelabrator in Millbury and paying tipping and tonnage fees.

Johnson, a member of the Solid Waste Committee, repeated the committee's request that users of the landfill, in order to increase the capacity of the bin, and to avoid the unsightly and expensive accumulation of plastic adjacent to the bin, crush milk bottles and other plastic bottles before depositing them in the bin.

Blois distributed information memos from waste consultants regarding private sewer plants and solid waste disposal.

LaBonte asked what protection the town would have if, after a private system fails, a vote of town meeting could convert a private system into a town system.

"They could give it to you," Blois said, "but I don't think they could force you to operate it where it's on private property." The issue addressed in the memo is that a surety be set aside to guarantee the operation of the plant should the owners fail to put up money. That is part of State requirement before it is approved.

Update

Blois reported that the IRS has found that Massachusetts retirement systems do not meet the Federal guidelines for retirement systems. "At this time," he said, "the interpretation of the IRS is that all employees who work in Massachusetts (and 4 other states) will have to pay FICA (Social Security), and so will the employer. This means that 12% to 15% (including present retirement payments) of wages would go to retirement benefits and that's ludicrous. The town would be responsible for 7.65% likewise for all employees, including those in the county retirement system. We have not budgeted for that. We have made calls to our Congressmen and I urge you to do the same."

Strieby asked if a petition for delay would be in order. Blois replied, "This year or next year, where are we going to come up with another $400,000?"

Strieby suggested that the School and Finance Committees be formally advised.

Appointments

- On the recommendation of the Planning Board, the selectmen voted to approve the appointment of Denise Harrison as an Associate Member of the Planning Board.

- Harvey Bileau was chosen to fill a vacancy on the Recreation Committee.

LaBonte applauded Bileau's boundless energy and enthusiasm, saying, "I have never enjoyed making a nomination or an appointment more than that of this gentleman. He certainly has earned the right to this appointment."

Ed Wrenn, Chair of Recreation, said, "We went on record three weeks ago in favor of Harvey."

Marion's Camp

Strieby, noting the presence of the Recreation Committee, departed from formality and commented on the deplorable condition of the beach at Marion's Camp.

Wrenn reported he had been there over the weekend, as had Strieby. "The docks have been removed, the parking area has been done under contract, but the irrigation ditches promised for last Fall have not been done," he said. Due to the steep slope toward the beach area, rainstorms have eroded the beach, causing the loss of many yards of sand. It was planned to control the water by ditches running parallel to the water line at the top of the slope. Wrenn felt that several days work by the Highway Department would render the facility usable at the end of the month.

Blois said the job was included in the Highway schedule and would be done.

Strieby asked if the work could be contracted, but both Wrenn and Blois asked, "Where will we get the money?"

Wrenn said the ditches in place were not functioning because they were filled with leaves and debris. He lamented the fact that the work done by the Highway Department in

Don't Bite the Hand that Freed You!

By Lawrence Moore

The Soviet Union is engaged in a multi-faceted Civil War, with forces on the left and on the right tearing the Union apart. The job of controlling the Soviet Union was, from the beginning, entrusted to a vicious party apparatus. The military was almost independent, and commanded a tremendous chunk of GNP. The KGB, through its many transmutations, was hated and feared. The internal and international spy system was unparalleled in its brilliance and in its ruthlessness.

The Party, on the right, concerned with self-preservation and fearful of a real revolution, wants to replace Gorbachev with a "hard-liner." Eight of the sixteen constituent Republics, including Russia, the largest, want to secede from the Union. Massive strikes and protests are ominous evidence of popular revolt.

The Russian peasantry had for centuries been dominated by Czarist regimes. Instead of the promised "Dictatorship of the Proletariat" the Communist revolution multiplied the misery of the past. Despite purges of leaders, rivalry among the official cliques and the utter degradation of millions of its people, Party leaders continued in power.

Without incentive, productivity declined, quality of life deteriorated and the common man's future appeared as bleak as his past. A people oppressed, brutalized, imprisoned, tortured and killed for the last 80 years by the Community Party seethed with repressed hate and suppressed anger. Today, the pressure of those years of suffering is erupting with volcanic force ... against the very individual who, with Glasnost and Perestroika, opened a crack in the seething cauldron.

What the hard-liners don't understand is the pent-up desire of the people for change. They see Gorbachev as the destroyer of their power, when actually he may be the savior of their lives, the seeds of revolt have been sown and are now sprouting.

What the people don't want to understand is the impossibility of achieving change overnight. 80 years of Communist inefficiency can only be replaced by a lengthy and painstaking, even painful, process. They strike, they protest, they march, and they want to remove Gorbachev. What the people have forgotten is their debt to Mikhail Gorbachev. He alone made it possible for rebellious groups to rise up and get away with it. Forgotten is the change from Evil Empire to partner-in-peace, forgotten is the Nobel Peace Prize, forgotten is the freedom of Poland, East Germany, the other Warsaw Pact nations, all forgotten because he can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear ... overnight.

Russia is economically sick, internally rotten, militarily a bully, and internationally a has-been. For the right and for the left, Gorbachev is the only hope in sight for Russia to rejoin the Democratic world and to rebuild its economic and social structure.

The party, whipping a "dead horse", and the people, hungering for change, must give Gorbachev a chance. To them I say: Don't Bite the Hand that Freed You!

The Men in Our Lives by Elizabeth Fishel and Fathers and Daughters by William S. Appleton. Summer Safari

MILLBURY - Join the Millbury Public Library's 1991 Summer Reading Program as they take off on Safari to explore the world of books. "Summer Safari" is open to all readers/explores.

Pre-readers are invited to join the Safari with a parent or other helper who will read to them as they track elephant footprints through the Read-to-Me Club. For every 10 books read, they will capture an animal in picture form by attaching an animal sticker to their log books.

Explorers entering grade 3 who are reading on their own are invited to pack up for adventure as they travel through books. Unusual animals, different cultures and exotic locales will all be part of the Summer Reading Club.

Families are also encouraged to join the program as a group and safari together by sharing books. A variety of programs have been planned for all ages: Annual literary Scavenger Hunt for grades 3-6 (based on the Shaw Elementary School reading list); Summer Safari Scavenger Hunt; 10th annual Stuffed Animal Contest; Make-a-Pinhole Camera or an African mast; storyteller Ben Tousely...and more.

Registration for the Safari Reading Program begins Wednesday, June 19th. Bring a wallet size picture of yourself when you register. All programs are free of charge thanks to the combined efforts of the Central Massachusetts Library System, the Friends of the Library, the Millbury Arts Council, and area businesses. Make tracks to the library for complete details.
